REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Board of Lyme:

I herewith submit my fifth annual report as superintendent of schools.

Teachers

The teacher is the most important factor of the school. Books, supplies, and other equipment may be necessary to the accomplishment of the best results, but more necessary than all of these is the teacher. A poor teacher cannot accomplish the best results however well her school may be equipped otherwise. A good teacher is absolutely necessary if we are to have a good school. We have had teachers in Lyme of varying degrees of efficiency, but upon the whole, we have had good teachers, and are fortunate to have retained some of them so long. It is a matter of regret that we could not retain longer Mr. Harris, whose efficient work at the Center for four years has been a feature of our schools.

Miss Lind at the Hewes school is the only one entirely new to our schools this year. We have two less teachers than a year ago. Because of the decrease in numbers, the two rooms at the Center were combined, and partly for the same reason and partly because of very irregular attendance largely due to long hard walks, the Whipple school was closed, and transportation provided. This latter arrangement, while it provided very comfortable transportation for the children, as well as greatly improved school opportunity, has not been satisfactory to the community, and, as there may be some small children to begin school next fall, it is probably advisable to reopen the school next year. Hence an additional teacher will need to be provided.

Buildings

Further work in painting the buildings has been done during the year. Beyond this and the necessary minor repairs, nothing has been done to improve the school plants. I would repeat the suggestion I made last year in regard to the heating and sanitary conditions. The stoves should be jacketed, and the toilets should be changed as suggested. Jackets to the stoves would make it possible to heat the rooms more uniformly, and probably more economically. The toilet should be so changed that they may not continue to be a menace to both the health and the morals of the children. These changes should be made in one or two buildings a year until all are put in good condition. Thus the expense would be distributed over a number of years.

Attendance

The attendance record in the Lyme schools is good, and, were it not for a few unfortunate instances, it would be exceptionally good. I called attention last year to this matter with particular reference to the Whipple school. Here the situation was especially aggravated by the record of one family. This family has since moved from town, and the school has been temporarily closed. It is to be hoped that if this school is to be reopened next year, as planned, a great improvement will be made by this school in this matter. Irregular attendance greatly interferes with the work of the school.

One feature of the attendance record of the entire town is disturbing. This is that the enrollment is growing less each year. The following table will be of interest in this connection. It will be observed from these figures that the school population is rapidly decreasing. The logical result of this tendency is the closing of schools when they become too small to be worth while. This has already happened too many times.

Year ending	Total	Av.	Av.	Per Cent
June	Enrollment	Mem.	Att.	Att.
'21	149	123.52	113.67	92
'22	138	119.63	114.2	95.4
'23	131	109.2	102.16	93.5
'24	119	106.45	100.47	94.4

Up to the present time, 106 have been enrolled this year. This number may be increased before June. The present enrollment is 96.

Finances

The school finances are in good condition. The amount of State aid that we receive grows less as the expenses of maintaining the elementary schools becomes less. The large balance at the close of the fiscal year in June is partly due to the unexpended balance of State aid money. This is technically due the State, but is used to lessen by that amount the State aid for the next year. A somewhat smaller unexpended balance will be due the State at the end of the present year.

Transportation

The transportation problem has been a vexing one. It has seemed wise to provide transportation in instances where schools have been closed, even where the distance would not make transportation a statutory obligation. Of course, the State does not share in this expense. As far as can be foreseen, the transportation expense for next year will be somewhat less.

The Work of the Schools

The work in the schools is, and has been for the year since the last report, very good. In some particulars it has been exceptionally good. All the schools are now of good working size. No teacher can do first class work in a school either too large or too small. Our work has at times suffered because of too small schools. None of the schools are now large, and none extremely small. We should be able to accomplish an excellent year's work. The teachers are enthusiastic, and working hard, and the pupils are generally responsive.

In June, a class of fourteen was graduated, and quite as large a class should be ready for graduation next June.
